Contents

DUFFIN, C. J. Men, methods and materials: exploring the historical connections between geology and medicine

Men and methods

HOCH, E. Earth science as a philosophical background to medicine: an essay based on the autobiography of Dr Otto Sperling (1602–81)

MATHER, J. D. & DUFFIN, C. J. Nathaniel Hodges and the purging wells of Shooter’s Hill

PORRO, A., FRANCHINI, A. F., FALCONI, B., GALIMBERTI, P. M. & LORUSSO, L. Water and the city of Milan at the end of the nineteenth century

PANTALONI, M., CONSOLE, F., LORUSSO, L., PETTI, F. M., FRANCHINI, A. F., PORRO, A. & ROMANO, M. Italian physicians’ contribution to geosciences

LISTON, J. J. & ALCALÁ, L. The obstetrician, the surgeon and the premature birth of the world’s first dinosaur: William Hunter and James Parkinson

SABATÉ CASELLAS, F. & TORRES GALLARDO, B. Pau Estorch Siqués (1805–71) and his ‘magnes venenorum’

CARTER, T. & SPURGEON, A. Duncan and Son: changing professional boundaries in the geological and medical sciences in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

BUFFETAUT, E. From giant birds to X-rays: Victor Lemoine (1837–97), physician and palaeontologist

Materials

RETSAS, S. Geotherapeutics: the medicinal use of earths, minerals and metals from antiquity to the twenty-first century

PHOTOS-JONES, E., EDWARDS, C., HÄNER, F., LAWTON, L., KEANE, C., LEANORD, A. & PERDIKATSIS, V. Archaeological medicinal earths as antibacterial agents: the case of the Basel Lemnian sphragides

CARRASCO, J. & DUFFIN, C. J. Alectorius: a parasympathomimetic stone?

PYMM, R. ‘Serpent stones’: myth and medical application

PYMM, R. ‘A charm to impose on the vulgar’: the medicinal and magical applications of the snakestone bead within the British Isles

PODGORNÝ, I. The name is the message: eagle-stones and materia medica in South America

DUFFIN, C. J. ‘Fish’, fossil and fake: medicinal unicorn horn

BLAEN, T. ‘Not used to be worn as a Jewel’: The wearing of precious stones in early modern England – ornaments or medicine?

BARRÓSO, M. DO S. Coral in Petrus Hispanus’ ‘Treasury of the Poor’

BERGMAN, B. P. Lead, isotopes and ice: a deadly legacy revealed

Index