The Quarterly Journal of Engineering Geology

An International Journal Encompassing Engineering Geology and Hydrogeology

Scientific Editor: A B Hawkins

Assistant Scientific Editor: K M Baxter

Scope

The Quarterly Journal of Engineering Geology is an established international journal published by the Geological Society from its publishing house.

Papers are invited from both Fellows and non-Fellows from all areas of the world on topics concerning geology as applied to civil engineering, mining practice and water resources.

The journal also includes review articles, technical notes, meeting reports, book reviews, notices of meetings and photographic features. Occasionally, the journal is largely given over to a report, e.g. the Geological Society Engineering Group Working Party Report on Engineering Geophysics (1988, vol 21, no 3).

The journal has a wide international circulation, being essential reading for geologists and engineers in both industry and academia, especially those working in the following fields:

rock mechanics	geotechnics
applied sedimentology	soil mechanics
geohydrology	hydrogeology
engineering seismology	engineering geomorphology engineering application of geophysics

Indexed Abstracted in : Current Contents, Geological Abstracts, GEOREF, Petroleum Abstracts.

A selection of papers

Probabilistic approach for design optimization of rockfall protective barriers, P. PARONUZZI (Italy)
Seismic delineation of fissures associated with mining subsidence at Houghton-le-Spring, Co. Durham, N.R. GOULTY (UK) & J.E. KRAGH (UK)
Stress-strain behaviour of sulphur concrete made with different aggregates and admixtures, B. CZARNECKI (Canada) & J. E. GILLOTT (Canada)
The 1985 Baraman landslide dam and resulting debris flow, Papua New Guinea, J. KING (Papua New Guinea), I. LOVEDAY (USA) & R.L. SCHUSTER (USA)
Airborne multispectral scanning of subsidence caused by Permian gypsum dissolution at Ripon, North Yorkshire, A.H. COOPER (UK)
Applications of geomorphology to small hydroelectric schemes, G.P. BIRCH (UK)
The oxidation of pyrite in cement stabilized colliery shale, M.D.A. THOMAS (UK), R.J. KETTLE (UK) & J.A. MORTON (UK).
The development of layered sediment beds in the laboratory as an illustration of possible field processes, M.J. EDGE (UK) & G.C. SILLS (UK).
Estimation of groundwater resources of the Berkshire Downs supported by mathematical modelling, K.R. RUSHTON (UK), B.J. CONNORTON (UK) & L.M. TOMLINSON (UK).

Submission procedure

Manuscripts should be prepared as outlined on the inside back cover of the journal, and sent to the Staff Editor: DC Ogden, Geological Society Publishing House, Unit 7, Brassmill Enterprise Centre, Brassmill Lane, Bath BA1 3JN, UK (Tel: 0225 445046 Fax: 0225 442836) There are no page charges. Advertisement enquiries should also be sent to this address.

Subscription rates 1990 (Volume 23)

(The journal is published in January, April, July and October.) ISSN 0481 - 2085

£96.00 (UK)	£115.00 (overseas)	US $198.00 (North America and Japan only)
Single issue:	£28.00 (UK and overseas)	US $ 59.40 (North America and Japan only)

For your Free sample copy and all orders and business correspondence relating to subscriptions should be addressed to : Journals Subscriptions Dept., Room Q1, The Geological Society Publishing House, Unit 7, Brassmill Enterprise Centre, Brassmill Lane, Bath BA1 3JN, UK (Tel: 0225 445046 - Fax: 0225 442836)

Orders can be placed directly or through your usual agent.

Journal of the Geological Society

Chief Editor: M. J. Le Bas

The Journal of the Geological Society is among the world's leading references for significant research in geology. It has been continuously published since 1845 and it enjoys a wide circulation throughout the world.

Only material of the highest quality is accepted for publication. As well as major research papers, the Journal publishes Conference Reports, Discussions and rapid publication Short Papers.

Indexed / Abstracted in: Current Contents, Geological Abstracts, GEOREF, Petroleum Abstracts, Mineralogical Abstracts.
